

The Security Landscape Has Changed

87%

of CISOs state that mobile devices have become the focal point of their cybersecurity strategies

The erosion of the traditional network perimeter has given rise to new IT security challenges. Today, CISOs are struggling with ensuring only trusted users, devices, networks, and apps can access company data.

45%

cited employees using unsecured Wi-Fi to access business data as a top challenge cited employees using their own devices to access business data as a top challenge

40%

33%

cited employees using unauthorized apps to access business data as a top challenge

32%

cited mobile phishing attacks as a top challenge

Ivanti surveyed 400 CISOs from enterprises with more than 500 employees across EMEA in the UK, France, Germany, Benelux, Spain, and Italy to understand how the pandemic has influenced the roles and priorities of CISOs.

Read the full survey